The Arc.
Tampa Bay Foundation

In partnership with

Southwest

Tampa International Airport
4100 George J Bean Pkwy, Tampa

For many individuals with intellectual and unique abilities, the experience of air travel can feel unfamiliar and overwhelming. Wings for Autism provides a supportive environment where participants and their families can experience the airport process from check-in through boarding an aircraft, helping build confidence for future travel.

Through this program, individuals are able to practice navigating airport security, boarding a plane, and becoming comfortable in an airport setting, creating meaningful opportunities for greater independence and inclusion.

Since 1958, The Arc Tampa Bay has supported individuals with intellectual and unique abilities and other neurodiverse individuals throughout our community. The organization is dedicated to supporting and empowering people of all abilities to live meaningful, self-directed lives.

Today, The Arc Tampa Bay provides a wide range of programs designed to promote independence, opportunity, and community inclusion, including:

- Residential Programs supporting individuals in community-based homes
- Vocational Training Programs that prepare individuals for meaningful employment
- Adult Day Training Programs focused on life skills, social engagement, and independence
- Applied Behavior Analysis (ABA) Clinic providing specialized therapeutic services

The Arc Tampa Bay Foundation serves as the philanthropic partner of The Arc Tampa Bay, raising and stewarding charitable support that strengthens and expands these vital programs.

Sponsoring Wings for Autism does more than bring this experience to life—it helps sustain the full continuum of essential services provided by The Arc Tampa Bay, ensuring individuals and families have the support they need not just for today, but for a lifetime. There needs to be clarity that financial support is for all of our services not just this event.
